Greeks Force Retreat

Bulgarian Troops
Leave Tiny Island
But Under Gunfire

ATHENS (AP)—The Greek General Staff said Communist Bulgarian troops withdrew Thursday night under Greek mortar and machinegun fire from the tiny, disputed Isle of Gamma in the Evros River, which forms the Greek-Turkish-Bulgarian frontier.

After a day-long pounding of the island, the General Staff said the Bulgarian troops—probably no more than a patrol strength—were seen evacuating the island.

The announcement said no Greek troops were sent to the island, since the only objective of the gunfire was to get the Bulgarians out.

The Greeks had given the Bulgarians an ultimatum to get off the island—which both countries claim—and then opened up when the demand was ignored.

Aside from the announced withdrawal, the General Staff blacked out all information as to the size of its forces, the gravity of the situation or whether either side had suffered casualties.

Unofficial reports from the scene said the Greeks, moving up troops to the Bulgarian border, were backed by artillery.

United Nations Balkan Commission observers on the scene reported to the U.N. in New York that big forces of both countries were ready for action.

Before the shooting started they called the situation "very dangerous" and urged Greece to ask U.N. intervention which might "possibly save the situation."

The Greek delegate at the U.N. already has said Greece was not contemplating such a request.

Despite some expressions of fears of a dangerous Balkan flareup, a Greek diplomatic source at Istanbul, Turkey, described the incident as a local one—a continuation of a series of flareups in the area over the past five years.

Istanbul dispatches quoted officials at Adrianople, a Turkish town 10 miles from Gamma, as saying the firing lasted 90 minutes, stopping at 10 a.m.

The Greek General Staff announced the attack and then refused any more information.

It came—in the presence of the U.N. Balkan Subcommittee observers—after the Bulgarians on the island ignored an ultimatum to get off.

Hog Serum Sale OK'd For Present

A temporary restraining order has been granted by District Judge John L. Polk, allowing the Fort Dodge Laboratories, Inc. of Fort Dodge, Ia., to continue sale of its hog cholera serum, at least temporarily.

The company, which claims it has developed a new type of serum to deal with hog cholera, said Dr. E. P. Anderson, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industries, had threatened to stop sale of the product—M. L. V.—because Nebraska statutes provide that only certain types of hog serums may be used.

The company claims its product has been approved by the United States Department of Agriculture and is on sale in 47 other states. The suit is the second of its type filed in the last two months.

A Vacation For Your Tavern Keeper, Too

Your tavernman needs relaxation as much as any other business man. Like many of his customers, he, too, will take a vacation.

And, it is only natural that, while in other localities, he will visit other tavern keepers to learn better methods which can improve his operation.

Aside from the ideas he gains from other tavern owners, your tavernman is aided by the continuing educational program conducted by the brewing industry in Nebraska. By cooperating in this program, your tavern keeper is continually informed of the approved methods of tavern operation.

His cooperation with this educational program enables your tavern keeper to provide pleasant, wholesome surroundings for your enjoyment. It enables him to better serve the public.

Building Strike Spreads To Air Base, But 'Break' Threat Made

A local building trade unions' strike against construction firm members of the Associated General Contractors took on a wider aspect with the announcement that re-activation work at the Lincoln Air Base will be picketed.

Harold Goebel of Omaha, business agent for the Operating Engineers Union Local 571, said picketing is planned against the Lincoln Heavy Highway Chapter of the AGC.

Included in his reasons for the proposed picketing are that the heavy highway firms in the AGC "refuse to recognize Local 571."

The contractors "and independent firms," he said, "are using non-union labor and they're paying a heavy highway wage scale" when they should be paying a construction wage scale.

Goebel explained that the heavy highway scale is $2 per hour for crane operators and $1.85 for bulldozer operators. The construction scale, according to Goebel, is $2.47½ and $2.20 an hour for the two jobs respectively.

"They pay construction wages on ordinary jobs," said Goebel, "but when they move out of town, they start paying on the heavy highway scale."

Goebel also claims that the AGC obtained, by improper filing, permission from the Federal Wage Board to pay on the heavy highway scale at the Air Base.

"The AGC isn't a proper bargaining agency," he said, "since they refused to recognize us." The union has jurisdiction over

Suit Against United Benefit Pension Plan

The third suit in Lancaster District Court against a life insurance company since the state Supreme Court invalidated a reformation plan for officers has been filed by Jean A. Ahern, a policy holder in the United Benefit Life Insurance Company, of Omaha.

Her suit, which she said was filed for herself and more than 150,000 policy holders, asks for invalidation of officer retirement plans adopted by the company after passage of a statute allowing insurance companies to set up employee retirement plans.

The Nebraska Supreme Court held that officers are not employees in the usual sense of the word.

The suit is against the company and its officers, G. J. Cleary, president; Miles Schaeffer, vice president; and Neil L. Criss, secretary-treasurer. Attorneys in the case are Max Klier, who filed one of the suits recently filed and served as attorney in the other, and Charles Ledwith.

The other suits were against the Mutual Benefit and Accident Association and Guarantee Mutual Life Company, both of Omaha.

The case in which the Supreme Court gave its decision involved the Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska.

Insurance Officer Pension Hearing Asked In Briefs

Briefs were filed in the state Supreme Court arguing in behalf of a rehearing of the court's decision in favor of Charles S. Ledwith, et al, in their suit against the Bankers Life Insurance Co. and its officers which declared a pension plan for officers of the company to be invalid.

The company contends, "The court, as indicated in its opinion, did not resort to the many aids available to ascertain the intention of the legislature in the construction of this statute."

The brief points out that in the seven years since passage of the enabling act for pensions for insurance company workers, six Omaha companies have adopted pension plans to include officers.

Since the court's decision, suits have been filed against some of the Omaha companies and one company has voluntarily submitted a new plan for approval of the insurance department.

Bankers Life attorneys asked permission to argue their motion orally as well as through the printed brief.

Iowa Wire Mishap Fatal To Omahan

VINTON, Ia. (AP)—Ed Krump, 23, Omaha, was killed Thursday when he touched a 2,400-volt wire in the Vinton Municipal Power Plant.

Krupa and another electrician were rewiring a generator at the time of the accident.

USS Boxer's Toll Of Dead Put At Nine

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy announced Thursday that nine men perished, 75 were injured, and 63 were rescued from the sea when a jet plane explosion started a raging fire aboard the aircraft carrier Boxer off Korea Wednesday.

The number of dead previously had been announced as eight.

The list of dead carried no names of men from the Midwest.

Two Seriously Injured
Two of the injured were reported in serious condition. Fifty were treated for "smoke exhaustion" and 25, of whom 11 are still hospitalized, were taken to the ship's sick bay with burns and other injuries.

The most seriously injured men were Michael F. Hannify, aviation electronics man of Miami, Fla., critical burns and compound leg fractures; and Ralph L. Finley, airman of Farnell, Mo., second and third degree burns.

Scores of crew members were overcome by smoke. Men who leaped over the side of the 27,000-ton carrier to escape the flames which gutted the hangar deck were rescued by helicopters and small boats.

Police 'Raid' Uncovers Small 'Arsenal' From Shoplifting Young Trio

A small arsenal consisting of three air rifles, 11 packs of B-Bs, darts, seven bow and arrow sets, arrows, quivers, hunting knives and sheaths and a cap gun was recovered by police from three young boys Thursday.

The boys, aged 9, 10 and 11, were turned over to juvenile authorities and the loot returned to downtown department stores and hobby shops.

Police recovered part of the articles Wednesday but did not find the boys. Another foray by the boys led to their arrest.

Another group of young boys, who told police they were running away, took six water pistols from a department store and four bicycles from private owners.

Two teen-age girls were turned over to juvenile authorities on shoplifting charges after they allegedly took two blouses and a billfold and a lipstick from store counters.

Jury Finds Soldier Innocent Of Motor Homicide Charges

MADISON, Neb. (AP)—A Madison County District Court jury deliberated 20 minutes Thursday afternoon before finding Russell Bendt, Ft. Riley soldier, innocent of a charge of motor vehicle homicide.

The charge was filed in connection with a highway crash south of Norfolk last September in which Mrs. Flora M. Gilland and her daughter, Mrs. Raphael Dowling, lost their lives.

The jury of eight women and four men heard testimony beginning Tuesday in Judge Lyle Jackson's court. The state called seven witnesses and read testimony of another. The defense called six, including the defendant and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bendt, Sherman, S. D.

State Highway Work Planned

Construction Cost Set At $370,000

Bids on 84 miles of county roads and state highways construction and 653 miles of maintenance work on state highways will be taken Aug. 28, State Engineer Harold Aitken announced. Aitken estimated the construction work at $370,000. It will be financed by $185,000 in federal money, $125,000 in county funds and $60,000 in state funds. The maintenance work is estimated at $159,000 of state funds. Aitken added there have been few lettings where the counties put up more than the state in construction funds.

Small Dent
But, he noted, the $125,000 of federal money would make a "mighty small dent" in the secondary funds that will lapse if not matched in 1953.

As of July 25, there was $3,463,960 in federal aid secondary funds not under agreement for matching by Nebraska. The construction jobs include: Douglas County, 18 miles on secondary highway between Valley and Millard, grading and culverts. Madison County, 2 miles on Nebraska 28 south of Meadow Grove, bituminous mat and armor coat. Lincoln County, 6.8 miles, between Brady and Moorfield, and graveling surfacing. On Aug. 26 the department will take bids on an estimated $64,800 project for new paving in Plattsmouth. The 4 mile job will be financed by $16,800 of state funds and $48,000 city of Plattsmouth funds.

Making Of A Hair Shirt

Engaged in its preliminary studies of a budget, Lincoln's City Council must have groaned inwardly when it eyed the request of the City's Employees Association for a $30-a-month increase in wages and salaries for each employee. The council could say to itself truthfully that it does not have that kind of money.

Loyal, faithful employees of the city, many of whom have devoted years to this community, could say with equal truthfulness and greater force that when it came to raising the salary of Director Dave Erickson, the city did not seem to be pinched for lack of funds. In bidding for his services against an offer made him by the City of Philadelphia with more than 15 times the population of this community, the council upped Mr. Erickson from $8,360 annually to a snug $12,000 a year. Mr. Erickson long had been the best-paid employee at the City Hall—paid substantially more than anyone else in the city's service. To keep him, the council added $300 a month to his salary.

It isn't surprising, then, that city employees—men and women—who have never been overly paid for their services may have felt that in view of the generosity shown Mr. Erickson, they were not being unreasonable in asking for a general monthly increase of $30. At the time Mr. Erickson made it known to the council that he had received a very flattering financial offer from Philadelphia, this paper suggested the council would be wise to express its grateful appreciation for his services and to wish him Godspeed to a new field.

The council will have to say "no" to the request of the employees for a general raise of $30 a month, Mayor Anderson indicated, and some of his associates expressed a similar attitude. At its meeting Wednesday night the council set aside $74,000 for salary adjustments, approximately half of the amount requested. There isn't any pleasant way to say "no" to men who may not have put in as many years with the city as Mr. Erickson, but who nevertheless have been loyal and faithful for a considerable time.

An Opponent For Kem

By coincidence, the hard core of Republican reaction slapped down at the party's national convention in Chicago is up for re-election insofar as it is represented in the United States Senate.

There is Bricker in Ohio, McCarthy in Wisconsin, Jenner in Indiana, Kem in Missouri, and Butler in Nebraska. Alongside those boys, there are times when Sen. Bob Taft appears to be a wild-eyed radical. The prospects are not too bright for leaving them at home, come 1953. Presently they are all back of the Republican nominee for the presidency, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, rolling their eyes skyward and telling the people what a great guy Eisenhower is, a relatively recent discovery on their part. They were against him up until the very minute his nomination was assured, and they will be against

A little more than a year ago, in July of 1951, the city government asked the property owners of Lincoln, all taxpayers, to provide additional revenue needed for the operation of the city, both to improve salaries and to inaugurate a 10-year program of needed public improvements. That request received hearty approval by the taxpayers, already overburdened but public-spirited and willing to make any sacrifice to improve this community's position. As a result of the approval given at a special election, the City Hall had $393,276.71 additional tax revenue upon which to operate for the current fiscal year. Out of this, $97,480 was set aside by the council for salary increases last September. The new budget would up this $74,000, or $171,480.

Approximately a fourth of all the added revenue was utilized to more properly compensate the city's employees in the first wage adjustment—a step which we believe represented only simple justice, since many of them had gone through years of continuing inflation without any hike in their paycheck. An increase of $30 a month for each employee would have cost the city an additional $144,000 a year, which, added to the $97,000 already spent to improve salaries, would mean that out of $400,000 additional a year or whatever the council levies within the limitations set forth in the 1951 tax proposal, $241,000 of it would go for salaries.

That would leave a pitifully small amount for storm sewers, for park improvements, for new equipment for the fire department, added personnel for the police department and all the other essential services of city government. The Lincoln council under Mr. Erickson's leadership has been making faces at the Nebraska Public Power System because it asks for an increased rate for the electricity which it sells wholesale to the city. Does the City Council think the Nebraska Public Power System or any other institution, private or public, is not up against the buzz of higher labor costs and increased material costs? Mr. Erickson's services are costing the people of Lincoln possibly twice as much as when that original power contract was signed.

him again once they win re-election, in the event Eisenhower is victorious.

That is, in fact, the Republican candidate's great hazard. Chances of Republican party control of the Senate are slight and at best would be only a control in name. The men who fought Eisenhower would head up the committees in the Senate. They have the seniority and it is seniority in committee assignments which pays off. They also have precious little in common with Eisenhower.

There is a chance in neighboring Missouri that Sen. Kem may have the fight of his political life on his hands. The Democrats have nominated W. Stuart Symington, who demonstrated a remarkable capacity as a vote-getter, and unless primary wounds are too painful or slow to heal, Symington might be the chap to take Kem's measure.

More Power To Bobby

There may be those who take a dim view of the fact that in a newspaper office hundreds of miles from the metropolitan city where we Bobby Shantz is now doing his pitching, more than four score people took the trouble to telephone to find out whether Bobby would notch his 20th victory of the season.

To them, here is evidence a-plenty that this land of the free and the brave is on the toboggan. To us, it is a wonderful thing that America has not lost her capacity both to play and to work hard. We love our outdoors, our sports, and because we do, it does not mean that we will produce any less wealth or idle on the job.

One of the very fine things about America is its love of baseball, football, and other branches of athletics. So long as our people are paying homage to their athletic heroes, we do not need to worry about Americans becoming militaristic or decadent in morals. Little Bobby Shantz will be an inspiration to a lot of kids for years to come. He has demonstrated mere brawn is not all that counts.

Riddle In The Far East

The in-again, out-again negotiations for an armistice in Korea have taken some particularly strange turns in the last few days. Just when hopes for an agreement had reached a new high some two weeks ago, the talks at Panmunjom bogged down. Then a week ago the U.S. chief of naval operations predicted there would be an armistice in Korea "principally because the Communists want it."

There could be considerable speculation whether he was referring to Communists in general or to the Chinese Communists. There has been evidence of late that the men in Peiping and in Moscow are not seeing entirely eye to eye.

The Perils Of Viewing

One of the hazards of modern living was emphasized in a letter in the journal of the American Medical Association by a physician from Bridgeport, Conn. Taking a swift look at the American living room, Dr. William Kaufman has come to the conclusion that a new affliction, "television neck," has appeared on the scene.

He says he has observed the symptom in several patients recently. Sitting in the same position for long periods of time causes this malady, he writes, and then he explains in professional terms what it is all about:

"The manifestations of this syndrome, which for want of a better name can be called 'television neck,' include measurable increased limitations in ranges of neck movement and pain or discomfort in the posterior nuchal region."

In other words, the people are getting a stiff pain in the nape of the neck. And it occurs, not surprisingly, on one side of the neck for a husband and on the other side for the wife, assuming they have favorite chairs before the set and don't switch. But all is not lost; the doctor has a remedy. Raise the height of the TV screen or change the level of the chairs, he says.

Times Have Changed

Credit the governor of Tennessee with one of the most acute observations of the year. Asked what he thought was the greatest progress in agriculture in the past 35 years, Gov. Browning replied: "Well, nowadays you can't tell a farmer's daughter from a city girl."

DREW PEARSON

McCarran Attempts To Bulldoze Official

WASHINGTON—For about four months the State Department has been haggling with Dictator Franco of Spain regarding the proposed Spanish air and naval bases which Franco so glibly promised over a year ago when he wanted American cash, and which he has reneged on ever since the cash was voted.

Although France, England, Italy, Greece and Turkey have turned over their soil to American forces for airfields and naval bases, Franco continues to hold back—until he gets exactly his own terms.

These terms include: 1. More U. S. dollars with no strings attached. 2. Modern tanks, planes and artillery for the Spanish army which the U. S. Army needs primarily in Korea, second here at home, and third for the European Army.

U. S. diplomats figure that one reason Franco is so stubborn is because he knows he has powerful friends in Washington and that the money for Spain already has been appropriated by Congress. Since he's going to get the money anyway, he undoubtedly figures there's no use giving naval bases and airports in return for it.

Among his friends are powerful Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada and Charles Patrick Clark, who is paid $75,000 annually to influence congressmen on behalf of Spain. McCarran once had the gall to summon the head of the Export-Import Bank, Herbert Gaston, and put him on the griddle in front of the Spanish ambassador as to why he had not loaned money faster to Spain.

More recently, Sen. McCarran proceeded to bawl out James Bonbright, the diplomat handling Spanish negotiations, during secret hearings on the State Department's appropriation. Since McCarran sits on the subcommittee which decides how much money the State Department can get from Congress each year, he could have a whip hand over policy.

"Why is it?" McCarran demanded of Bonbright, "that none of the $100,000,000 has been allocated to Spain? Nothing has been done for Spain out of the $100,000,000, not a dollar of it."

"That was voted for economic, technical, and military assistance in the discretion of the President," replied Bonbright at the secret hearing. "It has seemed to us that the use of these funds will depend on our over-all military requirements."

"You are negotiating with Spain are you not, for bases and ports?" snapped McCarran.

"Those have been surveys, sir," said Bonbright. "They were surveys to see what the facilities were and generally to break the ice."

A LOOK AT THE PLATFORMS

Explosive Civil Rights Issue Skirted To Avoid Dissension

By CLARENCE MANION
Fourth of a Series

When the 1948 Democratic National Convention adopted its platform many southern delegates walked out because the "civil rights" plank was distasteful to them. Four southern states carried their resentment into the November election and chose electors pledged to the support of the "Dixiecrat" candidates, Thurmond and Wright.

Southern Democrats continued to be sensitive on the subject of "civil rights." Right up to the time when the 1952 Democratic National Convention was called to order, Democratic party leaders were worried about the probability that the 1948 walkout would be repeated with more states participating than was the case four years ago. In the preliminary skirmishing the Southerners were practically dared to bolt by the imposition of a "loyalty pledge" to which all but three southern delegations meekly submitted.

Next came the platform and its provocative civil rights plank. Let me behold! It was adopted by a simple voice vote with no discussion and no southern walkout.

Which side surrendered on the fearful civil rights issue? Was the 1952 plank watered down by the platform-makers in the interest of harmony or were the Southerners less militant in 1952 than they were in 1948?

At the nerve center of the sensitive civil rights issue is the delicate question of race relations. Literally, a "civil right" is "a privilege conferred by law."

For purposes of the present controversy that definition is incomplete because the northern civil rights advocates are not content with what they deem to be lax or biased law enforcement. They are even more concerned with the character of the laws themselves.

Racial segregation and/or payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite for the voting privilege are established by law in all states of the "Solid South." Strictly speaking, therefore, white people in Mississippi have no "civil right" to attend school with colored children or vice-versa.

The civil rights wing of the Democratic party maintains that such segregation and poll tax laws do violence to the essential equality of American citizenship. With limited success they have attacked the constitutionality of these state laws in the federal courts.

But civil rights advocates have not been content to leave the matter with the courts. They insist that it is a political question.

The present controversy grows out of the attempt to push laws through Congress which are intended to supersede the objectionable state legislation. Up to this time, mainly through the tactics of unlimited debate by south-

Experts Disagree On Sodium Pentathol

New York Case Cause Of Debate

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Copyright, 1952 by International News Service
NEW YORK (INS)—Leading medical authorities expressed conflicting views Thursday in a growing nationwide controversy over the use of sodium pentathol as an anesthetic.

The comment was prompted by an investigation in New York into the death of a 10-year-old boy while under sodium pentathol anesthesia.

In San Francisco, the director of the City Health Department, Dr. Ellis D. Sox, termed the use of sodium pentathol as "still in what we might call the experimental stage" and as "dangerous" when combined with other drugs for anesthetic purposes.

In Washington, an expert on anesthetics disclosed that the National Research Council is nearing completion of a five-year study of deaths and other mishaps from anesthetics with the view of providing greater safety for the public.

In New York a written report by an outstanding authority on anesthetics added fuel to the controversy over the use of sodium pentathol as an anesthetic for young children in surgical operations.

Requested By Attorney
The expert's opinion was submitted at the request of the district attorney of Queens County, T. Vincent Quinn, who is investigating the death of the 10-year-old boy, Roy Behanan, during a minor surgical operation in which sodium pentathol was the anesthetic.

The opinion was written by Dr. E. A. Rovenstine, professor and chairman of the Department of Anesthesiology at New York University-Bellevue Medical Center.

Dr. Rovenstine noted what he called the "precautionary advice inserted as a protective measure" in the descriptive literature on sodium pentathol published by its manufacturer, Abbott Laboratories, of Chicago.

This literature described the drug as "contra-indicated for operations in children under 10 years of age," meaning that its use is not advisable in such cases.

Dr. Rovenstine's Views
Dr. Rovenstine stated in part: "Until some five or six years ago, the use of pentathol in children was greatly restricted, or in many hospitals not used in any circumstances."

"The experience here during the war and in the years since has added knowledge that has contributed to the safety of pentathol administration."

"It is now used in relatively weak solutions seldom exceeding 2½ per cent or in concentrations of 0.1 or 0.2 per cent. Further experience has shown that when so utilized, and with other known precautions, sodium pentathol may be administered to children with safety.

"In a great many hospitals, Bellevue among them, there is no enthusiasm for the intravenous administration of anesthesia to children, since we hold the belief that other methods may have a wider margin of safety."

Dr. Artusio's Opinion

Dr. Joseph Artusio, chief anesthesiologist at New York Hospital and professor at Cornell, said:

"I do not think sodium pentathol is contra-indicated for children, if it is properly handled."

He said he had administered the drug to children as young as two years and had given it intravenously "regardless of age."

Dr. Artusio stressed, however, that administration of the drug must be in "competent hands."

Care Taken In Using Drug At Vets Hospital

Dr. Frank Cole, anesthesiologist at the Lincoln Veterans Hospital, said sodium pentathol anesthetic—alleged to have been instrumental in the death of a 10-year-old New York youth—is used "fairly extensively" at the Veterans Hospital.

He agreed with Dr. Sam Miller, anesthesiologist at Lincoln General, Bryan Memorial and St. Elizabeth hospitals who stated "No anesthetic is completely safe."

Sodium pentathol anesthetic is one of the best, said Dr. Cole, "because it's quick."

Dr. Cole said the anesthetic, developed in 1934, has to be used with caution.

He added, "Anesthetic accidents number about one in 3,000, according to latest figures."

State Files Appeal In Lease Decision
Transcript in appeal was filed by the attorney general in the case of the state against Wilber E. and Louise Cooley in the District Court at McCook.

The state sought to remove the Cooleys from state school land following the decision of the State Supreme Court that their lease was invalid and subsequent sale of the lease to Claude O. and Alma C. Frasier.

The original ouster was tried before a six man jury in Dundys County Court which found for the defendants. Appeal was taken to the District Court by the state on a petition in error.

The District Court held that following the Supreme Court action, the Cooleys "became tenants from year to year" and as a result were entitled to six months notice in order to obtain possession of the land.

New Road Cash Split Discussed

Studies have been completed by state engineers on a possible revision of division of money for highway needs in case additional funds are made available. The study was made at request of county and municipality officials.

Representatives of both counties and cities met with Harold Aitken, state engineer, Wednesday and discussed the overall situation and information in the engineers' study. Another meeting is planned for next week.

Present law gives the state 49.7 per cent, the county 46.7 and cities 3.7 of highway funds.

Aitken said that Indiana, for example, divides the money with 15 per cent to cities, 32 to counties and 53 to the state.

Ike Told GOP Must Have Concrete Farm Program

Minnesotan: 'Votes Hang On Decision'

DENVER (INS)—Gen. Eisenhower Thursday was warned by Minnesota's GOP national committeeman that the Republican party will "lose the farm vote again" unless it provides farmers with specific answers to their problems.

Mrs. F. Peavey Hefflinger told newsmen after her conference with the general that Eisenhower assured her he would campaign through the farm belt with a strong farm program.

Later Gen. Eisenhower issued a statement condemning political appeals to racial and religious prejudices as "Communist" tactics and joined in urging Republicans to speak out against such practices.

The GOP presidential nominee "wholeheartedly" endorsed a resolution by Minnesota Republicans calling on party members to "publicly rebuke and censor" attempts to inject prejudice into the election campaign.

The resolution was inspired by the flood of anti-Eisenhower propaganda, some of its violently anti-Semitic, which appeared during the general's campaign for the nomination and is still being circulated in some parts of the country.

The candidate declared that "appeals to prejudice and bigotry have no place in America."

Eisenhower added: "These were the tactics of Nazis and Fascists. That was why the freedom-loving people of the world destroyed them."

"Those are the tactics of the Communists today."

The resolution was passed last week by the Minnesota GOP executive committee with a provision that Eisenhower be asked to adopt it as part of his personal campaign.

DEMO LEADERS MAP STRATEGY—Campaign talk was the order of the day as these Democratic leaders conferred with Democratic Springfield, Ill., Thursday. At breakfast with Stevenson are Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Stevenson, Wilson Wyatt, campaign manager for the governor, W. Averell Harriman, Mutual Security Administrator, and Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan. REPUBLICAN OUTLOOK

ATLANTA (INS)—Retired Gen. Lucius D. Clark has denied rumors he will be named to a cabinet post should Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower be elected President.

Clay said here that "Gen. Eisenhower has not offered me any post and after 30 years of public service, I have no intention of going back."

A nationally-circulated magazine recently speculated Clay might be secretary of the treasury under Eisenhower.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Julius H. Reardon, a Democratic national convention delegate, has said he would vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, for President.

The life-long Democrat said the appointment of Wilson Wyatt at campaign manager for Adlai Stevenson indicates the Democratic nominee is leaning toward the leftist element in the party.

Farmers To Vote Republican Ticket, Hickenlooper Says

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) has declared that farmers are "tired of phony prosperity" and will swing their votes to the GOP in November.

The Iowa, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, claimed the Democrats face a hopeless task in trying to "salvage" these votes because farmers "know more" than they did in 1948.

He made the remark with reference to a conference between Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson and Agriculture Secretary Brannan at Springfield, Ill.

Hickenlooper claimed Brannan will be one of the main reasons for a GOP victory in 1952.

The senator declared: "Mr. Brannan distorted facts all over the place in 1948 and the Republicans didn't get them in order. This year we will carry on a more thorough discussion of farm problems and we'll carry the farm areas."

Moody urged the Illinois governor-bearer to consider a series of "face-to-face" television debates against his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Father's Possible Deportation Fought By War Vet Son

WENDELL, N. H. (INS)—The war veteran son of an immigrant mill worker appealed to President Truman for help Thursday to prevent the deportation of his father to Finland because the immigrant paid 90 cents to the Communist party 18 years ago.

Indignant fellow townsmen of Karl A. Latva, 49, began circulating petitions to President Truman and to Congress. They discussed plans for a "defense fund" to carry the case to the Supreme Court if it becomes necessary, in their determination to prevent their neighbor from being deported under the McCarran Anti-Subversion Act.

Latva came to America in 1915 at the age of 12. He signed Communist papers during a mill strike in 1934.

The case appears to be the first test of the provision of the act which holds that an alien who was a Communist party member must be deported.

Young Latva said that his father "doesn't really know if the paper he signed was a Communist party application." He never heard anything further after paying 90 cents dues.

The Wendell police chief was one of the defenders of the bewildered mill worker. He called Latva "a law-abiding citizen with an excellent record."

Talked to Investigator Latva found himself in difficulty when he told a federal agent, investigating his petition for naturalization, about the incident.

The mill worker's son said a man approached his father during a general strike in 1934 and told him of a plan to end the strike and put everyone back to work. Young Latva related: "This man talked to my father. He said he was a member of the Communist party. My father didn't know what the Communist party was and the man told him it was a legal organization similar to the Republican and Democratic parties."

"He told him that if enough people joined, the strike would be over and everybody would go back to work."

He paid the man 50 cents to join, and then sent him 10 cents a month for four months."

Latva, who has another war veteran son, was ordered deported by Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. in Boston Federal Court. Judge Wyzanski has expressed the hope that the Justice Department may revise its policy and cancel the deportation order.

Case Of Immigrant News To McCarran
RENO, Nev. (INS)—U. S. Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) said in Reno Thursday that the deportation case involving Karl A. Latva, of Wendell, N. H., had never previously been called to his attention.

The senator, author of the McCarran Anti-Subversion Act, said, however, that the courts of the nation are prepared to hear such cases as Latva's and to protect the rights of those threatened with deportation.

He said he was reluctant to discuss the case without knowledge of the background. He expressed surprise that the case had not been called to his attention by the senators from New Hampshire.

Others were rescued after the plane hit the water. All four survivors suffered minor injuries. Eyewitnesses said one engine exploded, bursting in flame, shortly after the plane took off from Wiesbaden Air Base for a flight to Fuerstendfeldbruck.

Tormented 35 Years By Dandruff and Itchy Scalp

DES MOINES, Iowa—Mr. T. M. Taylor, 462 S.E. 2nd St., Des Moines, Iowa, says: "For thirty-five years I have been searching for a product that would bring relief from the torment and embarrassment caused by dandruff and itchy scalp. I tried everything I heard about, and feel sure I spent more than a thousand dollars for different things that gave me no relief. I saw the Baker's Hair Tonic in the newspaper, and decided to try one more thing. It brought me quick and wonderful relief from the distress I had been plagued with so long. If everybody knew the facts in my case, the torment and embarrassment caused by dandruff and itchy scalp would soon be a thing of the past. I will never be without Baker's again."

For dandruff and itchy scalp, use Baker's Hair Tonic. For clean scalp and lustrous hair, use the new, improved Baker's "Lathermist" Shampoo. Both are sold on a money-back guarantee.—Adv.

Wahoo Steer Millionth To Go Through Omaha Yards

'52 Receipts Go Beyond Last Year's

OMAHA (AP)—A 1,175-pound choice to prime steer fattened in the Wahoo area Thursday became the millionth head of cattle to pass the Omaha Stock Yards this year.

Harry B. Coffee, president of the Union Stock Yards Co., said the millionth head was received about four weeks ahead of last year when Omaha passed Chicago for the first time as the world's largest cattle market.

Coffee recalled at this time last year 909,000 head of cattle had passed through the yards. In recent years, only in 1947 did the millionth head received before Aug. 7.

He said the figures on the cattle run for the year to date definitely would help Omaha in its bid to become the world's largest cattle market for the second year in a row.

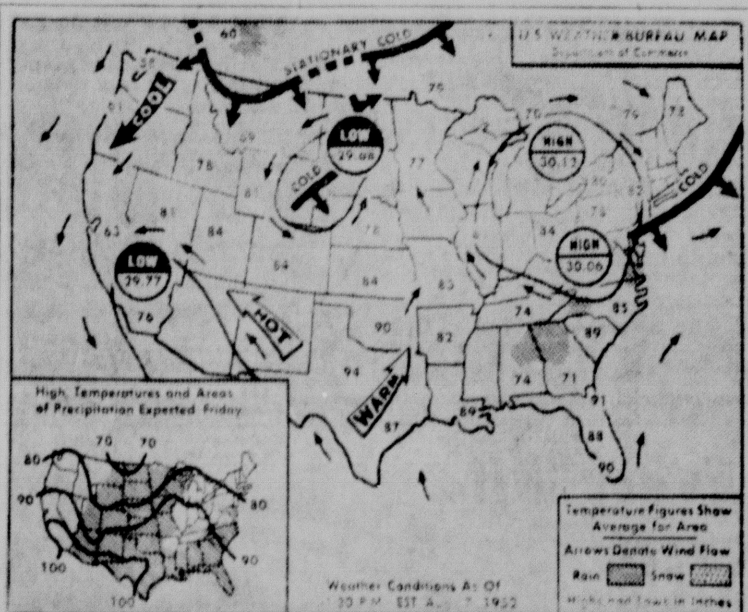

The millionth head was owned by Louis E. Dolezal and Ted Dives, both of Wahoo, and was brought into the market by George Mahack of Weston. It was purchased by Swift & Co. for $34 a hundred.

Warmer temperatures are forecast in Ohio and Tennessee valleys and continued warm in the south Atlantic states. It will be cooler in the Dakotas with little change expected elsewhere. Parochial School Over 100,000 Mark

SEWARD, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Dr. Arnold Grumm, vice president of the Lutheran (Missouri Synod) Church, reported at the Southern Nebraska District convention, meeting in Seward, that for the first time enrollment in the parochial schools of the church has surpassed the 100,000 mark.

"This marks an increase of 3,748 from the 1951 enrollment," he added.

Rev. F. Bangert, Staplehurst, presented a resolution calling for continuance of financial aid to worthy and needy candidates for the ministry and parochial school teaching.

The Rev. Herman Hopmann, York, second vice president of the district, presented the budget which calls for an increase of $4,000 to help newly organized congregations during 1953-'54.

Convention members honored Revs. William Peterson, Garland, and C. P. Pebler, Cheyenne, Wyo., for having served 40 and 45 years, respectively, in active parish work.

Honored for 25 years of parish service were the following: Rev. G. O. Keschul, Ravenna; Rev. H. E. Pralle, Arapahoe; Rev. G. H. Roehke, Kimball.

Pastor H. F. Krohn, Doniphan, and Ingleside institutional chaplain and first district vice president, described his work among the mentally ill. He emphasized the fact that 50 per cent of the hospital beds in the U.S. hold mentally and emotionally ill patients.

Louis Heider, Omaha, case worker for the Lutheran Children's Home Society of Omaha and Fremont, said, "Our case work concerns the total personality of the individual, including the spiritual needs of the child as well as the physical and mental needs."

Rev. Krohn closed the convention late Thursday with an inspirational address.

Rain Cuts Adams Fair Attendance

HASTINGS, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Rain cut into attendance Thursday night as the Adams County Fair moved toward its final day.

Highlights of Thursday's entertainment was a 4-H livestock float parade before the evening grandstand show. A fireworks display was also presented.

Only a few hundred persons turned out Thursday afternoon, as compared to crowds of several thousands on Tuesday and Wednesday. Friday is the last day.

Friday's program includes the sale of 4-H baby beef at 10 a.m. and stock-car races in the afternoon, according to George Bivens, former state senator, and director of the fair board.

Dramatization Of 'Hiawatha' Slated At Winnebago Powwow

WINNEBAGO, Neb. (AP)—The Hiawatha legend of the 16th century will live again at the Winnebago Powwow which opened Thursday.

Hiawatha, the Mohawk chief, whose miraculous powers were immortalized in Longfellow's poem, will be dramatized by 40 Winnebagos as part of their reservation's 86th annual Powwow Saturday and Sunday nights.

Other features of the four-day Powwow's ceremonial dances, contests and tableaux, are expected to attract Indians here from Wisconsin, the Dakotas, fight the northwest Indians.

The Powwow was originated in 1866 as a victory celebration for the homecoming Omaha scouts who had helped the United States government put down the plains Indian uprisings.

The Omaha scouts were a company of Winnebagos and Omahas who enlisted in the United States Army at Decatur, Neb., in 1864 to fight the northwest Indians.

Three Lose Lives In North Platte Crash

Two Other Fatalities Over State

By the Associated Press
Three persons were fatally injured in a head-on car-truck crash Thursday four and a half miles east of North Platte to hike Nebraska's rapidly mounting 1952 road death toll to 192, as compared to 163 at this time last year.

The death of the third victim in an Elm Creek accident and the belated report of a Grafton man's death in a road crash have also been listed.

The latest victims:
Dr. Robert Nutter, 36, Wheeling, W. Va.

Jacqueline Spargo, 11, also of Wheeling.

Jody Spargo, 9, sister of Jacqueline.

Mrs. Jack Wall, 32, Pottstown, Pa.

Otto Schachterle, 63, Grafton.

Dr. Nutter and the Spargo children lost their lives in the North Platte tragedy. The doctor, driver of the car, was killed instantly.

Jacqueline died on arrival at a North Platte hospital, and Jody died late Thursday. The latter's injuries included a concussion, broken left arm and left leg.

Joseph Gilchrist, 29, Denver, driver of the truck, escaped injury.

Dr. and Mrs. James E. Spargo, also of Wheeling, parents of Jacqueline and Jody, witnessed the accident. They were in a car following Dr. Nutter. The group had been in Colorado vacationing.

Gilchrist was quoted as saying Patrolman Jack Sexton was trying to pass a car in front of him when he lost control of the car on wet pavement. The car and truck collided head-on.

Third Victim

Mrs. Wall died in a Kearney hospital of injuries received in a highway collision near Elm Creek in which two others were killed.

Two others injured in a Kearney hospital. They are Jack Wall, 14, stepson of Mrs. Wall, and Mrs. Teresa Ginetti, 65, Phoenix, Ariz.

Killed in the Elm Creek crash were Mrs. Mary Lancia, 38, and Turidito Lancia, 40, both of Phoenix.

Meanwhile, the belated report of the death of Otto Schachterle of Grafton came to the accident rec-

Final Day Polk County Fair Is Called By Rain

OSCEOLA, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—The Polk County Fair ended Thursday in the best way possible—it was rained out.

Axis B. And P. W. Members See Skits At Meeting

A skit, "Equal Pay for Equal Work," was given by Dr. Margaret Hammond, Miss Nellie Gingles, Miss Anna Wurm and Mrs. Ora Hahn at the Axis Business and Professional Women's Club which met at Bethany Christian Church on Tuesday evening for a dinner-meeting.

Mrs. Maude Gilmore presided at the business meeting in the absence of Miss Eula Ree Mer-

LOTS MORE news—a little more room—and the morning gets off to a flying start—Really felt like rolling out the red carpet when we heard that Mrs. Helen Drake Prouty was in town—It has been such a long time since Mrs. Prouty was last here—there were months and months in India—then a couple of years in Switzerland and it all adds up to a considerable lapse of time since Mrs. Prouty has visited Lincoln. She is of course, the house guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prouty, and also is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Drake, Mrs. after arriving in the States, went to Winnipeg, Canada where she spent some time before coming here for an indefinite stay.

TODAY IS the day, so someone told us that the charming Mrs. Louise Baker leaves, after a brief visit in Lincoln, to continue her journey to the west coast where she will be the guest of her brother-in-law and sister—

THERE WAS FUN out at the Faulkners—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. —Thursday evening—The informal party was a surprise celebration for Mr. and Mrs. E. N. (Jack) Thompson whose seventeenth wedding anniversary was Thursday—The guest list included in addition to Mr. Thompson's best man at the wedding — Mr. Faulkner, and Mrs. Thompson's attendant, Mrs. O. A. Barger, Jr., a group of Phi Kappa Psi brothers of the host and the masculine half of the anniversary couple.

SPEAKING OF surprise parties —Twelve members of the young feminine set entertained at a swimming party Thursday morning at Hillcrest club in celebration of Sandra Ellis's birthday anniversary. Following the swim the group remained at the club for lunch and an informal afternoon.

HEARD THAT Alfred DuTeau and his son, Louis, leave today for Superior, Wis., where they will visit briefly with Mr. DuTeau's sisters before going on to Sister Bay to join Mrs. DuTeau, and Miss Daisy DuTeau.

HAVE NEWS OF another branch of the DuTeau family, too—Mr. and Mrs. Don DuTeau (Betty Rosenlof) are leaving soon for Kansas City, Kan., where their apartment is all ready and waiting for them. Both Mr. and Mrs. DuTeau will be members of the Kansas City (Kans.) public schools faculty.

SHORTLY after September 1, we learned, Miss Sylvia Hancock, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hancock, will leave for Northfield, Minn., where she will be a freshman at Carleton college this year.

AND WHILE we have Minnesota right at the tip of our type-writer keys we may as well talk about the Clarence Nelsons —Mr. and Mrs.—and their two sons, Steve and Randy, who returned a few days ago from Bemidji, Minn., where they spent their summer holiday—Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and their family to Minnesota was Mrs. Nelson's father, A. M. Tillman of Hooper, who celebrated his eighty-second birthday at the summer resort and, incidentally, was one of the better fishermen of the group.

FOUND A NEW notation in our address book this ayem—It has to do with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Arnold and their daughter, Ershall, who have moved from 818 South Thirty-third street to 2640 Lake street.

WE'RE LOOKING forward to later August and some guests who will be arriving then—They are Mr. and Mrs. Duane Anderson of Springfield, O., who plan to arrive in Lincoln on August 27. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be the house guests of Dr. Margaret Finney during their stay in Lincoln, but also will visit Mrs. Anderson's brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coryell.

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

Miss Jacqueline Reinick, who will be married on Friday, August 22, at Westminster Presbyterian Church to Mark E. Weidner, will be the guest of honor Friday evening, August 8, at a dessert supper given by Mrs. E. W. Roberts, Mrs. Paul Garrett and her daughter Kathryn and Mrs. Walt Johann and her daughter Pat, of Seward. The guests at the one-gift shower will be Delta Zeta mothers and daughters.

Bridal Attendants Revealed

Mrs. Darlene Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Tracy, who will be married on Sunday, September 7 at First Methodist Church in University Place to John Nicholas Jones, son of Mrs. Paul Jones and the late Mr. Jones, is announcing her bridal party. Chancellor Carl Bracy will solemnize the 4 o'clock ceremony.

Serving her sister as matron of honor will be Mrs. R. G. Wallack and the maid of honor will be Miss Beverly Ann Tracy, also a sister of the bride-elect. The bridesmaids will be Miss Nancy Lee Tracy, sister of the bride-elect and Miss Patricia Ann Grasmick and the brides matron will be Mrs. Clarence Johnson. Lighting the candles will be Miss Jean Leinberger and Mrs. Gerald Schmid.

Paul Jones of Alliance will serve his brother as best man. Mrs. Jones will be the guest of honor Friday evening when the members of her bridal party entertain at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. J. E. Tracy.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock Miss Jean Leinberger and Mrs. J. M. Fahnstock will entertain at a one-gift shower in honor of Mrs. Jones. The guests will spend the afternoon sewing on tea towels which will be given to the bride-to-be.

Introducing—The Evan Stieblers

Four of Lincoln's newest residents (from Oak Lawn, Ill.) are making their home here where Mr. Stiebler is now supervisor for an equipment manufacturing plant. Oak Lawn, a suburb of Chicago, provided Mr. Stiebler (an accomplished trumpet artist) with entertaining and amusing part-time work playing in dance orchestras for the Northwestern university dances, weddings, debuts, and private parties! (He especially enjoyed the Polish weddings, with miles of tables laden with homemade feasts, about which he would inform his wife just before her Sunday dinners!) In addition to his interesting avocation, Mr. Stiebler loves to fish, to read and even to garden (before he came to Lincoln and was attacked by a million chiggers!) A former sergeant in the engineers' corps during the last war, he hopes to clean the gun and do a bit of hunting this autumn.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stiebler were born in Chicago, but the vivacious lady of the house spent most of her childhood in Pensacola, Fla., and Florida is where Mrs. Stiebler's mother still resides. In Oak Lawn when she was not busy with her family or numerous guests around the canasta table and television, Mrs. Stiebler was an active Girl Scout leader, and a P.T.A. member. With her husband, she was instrumental in organizing a square dance party (which, incidentally, has not yet come to Lincoln as a jolly way to spend an evening) for the graduating class of the junior high school.

The Stieblers as yet know few people here, although they love their "suburban" location at 3516 So. 46th St., and hope soon to become active in civic affairs and to make friends. They plan to do much of their interior decorating themselves, but those who have seen their house know how little its charming exterior needs!

Helping them to enjoy their new home are Kay, who will be a second grader at College View elementary school, and 14-year-old Marjorie, who like her father is very musical.

League Begins Coffee Series

Mrs. W. B. Boucher entertained a group of neighbors at an informal coffee, Thursday morning, at her home to open the series of guest meetings being sponsored during August by the League of Women Voters of Lincoln.

Pictured with Mrs. Boucher, who is standing at left, are (seated on the couch, from the left) Mrs. Karl Stuermer, Mrs. L. B. Lund and Mrs. Richard L. Thomas; (in the background, from left to right) Mrs. C. D. Brehm, Mrs. Joseph Christensen, Mrs. William Langhauser and Mrs. A. B. Neuenlander. At the extreme right is Mrs. A. K. Donovan who spoke briefly on the activities of the league.

Mrs. L. H. Fairchild will be hostess at the second in the coffee series this morning at her home, 3259 Starr, when the league president, Mrs. C. E. Rosenquist, will be speaker.

Other neighborhood affairs scheduled for next week include Tuesday afternoon, 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John L. Polk, 3918 Orchard, Mrs. Donovan as speaker; Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Gus Parsell, 1625 G street, Mrs. Everett B. Flinn as discussion leader; Thursday morning, 9:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. O. J. Hitchcock, 4206 Touzalin, with Mrs. Rosenquist, Mrs. Flinn and Mrs. Marvin S. Paul, speakers; and Friday morning, August 15, 10 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Kermit Johnson, 1917 South

Twenty-seventh street, Mrs. Rosenquist and Mrs. Flinn speakers.

Anyone who is interested in learning of the activities of the League is invited to attend the morning coffee held in her neighborhood.

Luncheon Honors Guest

In courtesy to Mrs. Thomas W. Fuson of New York City, who is visiting in Lincoln for 10 days, Mrs. Joseph P. Barta was a luncheon hostess yesterday at her home. Ten guests were invited for an informal afternoon.

Mrs. Fuson is the house guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Hallock, and Mr. Hallock.

Miss Rogers Is Honoree

Miss Frances Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Paul Rogers, who will be married on Saturday, August 30, to Arthur Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gross, has been the honoree at several pre-nuptial courtesies.

A surprise shower was given on Wednesday evening, July 18 in honor of Miss Rogers at the home of Miss Margaret McGregor. The hostesses were members of the Palladians Links who presented the bride-to-be with a miscellaneous shower.

You—And Your Figure

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Figure beauty is made up of many factors—proportion, willowiness, grace of line. But the young look of a firm uplifted bosom about a flat firm abdomen is one of the beauty lines most coveted by all who lack them. If this is a line of beauty which you once had but lost, or if you never counted it as one of your charms, there is a routine which, when faithfully followed for a few months, will give most satisfactory results. It takes but a few moments per day and today is an excellent day to start!

A Figure's Beauty Line

1. Kneel on the floor, thighs together. Lower your buttocks to rest on your heels (let your feet spread a bit). Keep your back erect, chin parallel to the floor. Grasp your ankles with your hands.

2. Simultaneously arch your back, drop your head backward as far as possible and push your buttocks forward; retract your abdomen. Work until you feel your abdomen flatten.

3. Hold the above position as you lazily raise your right arm forward and rotate it until the back of your hand is parallel to the floor, well behind your head, and you feel a gentle tug in your chest muscles. Reversing the motion, return your hand to the ankle and perform the action with your left arm.

4. Come back to your first position and repeat the action from ten to twenty times depending on your fatigue span. The moment you tire, give up.

Uplifted Bosom

In two or three months time you will be pridefully looking at your new figure.

In the meantime, maintain a good posture or your entire program will be wrecked. Every moment—standing, sitting or walking, pull your chest up and pull in your abdomen.

Most figure faults are the result of poor posture. Everyone should have a copy of our booklet "Your Posture" which gives you data on how to check your carriage from head to toe—and also how to correct any faults. You can obtain your copy by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope plus ten cents in coin to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

Even when the last horn blows for a figure, good posture will sound the saving grace note!

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree—to make your posture ideal—to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative easy-to-follow booklet "YOUR POSTURE." For a copy write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c in coin to help cover cost.

Federal Hog Killing Payment Plan Told

State Waits For Details Of Proposal

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

State officials Thursday night were still awaiting details of a proposed hog slaughter program announced in Washington for 15 states, including Nebraska, under which the Federal government would pay one-half of the loss to owners in killing swine with vesicular exanthema.

"When details of the federal proposal are received they will be studied and in all probability a conference of officials of Nebraska and surrounding states will be held to obtain uniform action," Dr. E. P. Anderson, state veterinarian said.

In the meantime, Nebraska is going forward in its efforts to prevent spread of the disease in the state.

Quarantines have been placed on 141 stock moving motor vehicles which visited the Omaha stockyards and did not follow federal regulations to immediately clean and disinfect trucks.

"We have been having practically 100 per cent cooperation from truckers, the same as other groups connected with the livestock industry," Dr. Anderson said. However, there are always a few who think they can "get by" and save the $2 expense of disinfecting. Cooperation is improving daily.

About 500 Here Dr. Anderson said that of the 12,620 head of hogs with the disease or exposed to it that it had been necessary to quarantine as a precautionary measure, he does not believe more than 500 now have active lesions. He said 2,006 head suspected of being exposed have been released.

Under the federal regulations, as reported, Dr. Anderson said he does not believe in excess of 9,000 head will have to be slaughtered unless new outbreaks occur. The State Bureau of Animal Industry Thursday was assigning veterinarians to visit quarantine counties and make individual quarantines on premises where swine suspected of being exposed are held. This was explained as a precautionary measure so that the disease is kept under control in case countywide quarantines are lifted.

Under the federal program, owners would be paid for the loss of hogs destroyed with participating states paying one-half. This will be one of the problems studied if a state conference is held. Many states like Nebraska have no funds available for such use.

It is reported that several Nebraska organizations with funds available are considering underwriting the state's share in the eradication program in the belief that the next session of the Legislature would make funds available.

GIFT FROM ITALY—This huge and ancient Roman vase was received by President Truman Thursday from Italian ambassador and Signora Tarchiani "as a small token of the feelings of friendship" the Italians have for the American people. The 750-pound marble vase is mounted on a 730-pound column, seven feet tall over all. The book, "Italia," pictures of fine arts and landscapes in Italy, is a personal gift for Mrs. Truman. (AP Wirephoto Thursday Night.)

announced that he will call a special session if necessary for the state to participate, many people connected with the industry do not believe such expenses and use of legislator's time is warranted.

Federal officials announced that the program cannot go into effect in any state until it has entered into a formal agreement. They pointed out that many states may not be able to co-operate immediately in the indemnity program because legislatures are not in session to provide funds.

Under the program, swine which have recovered from the disease or have been exposed to it but show no evidence of it would be moved directly to approved slaughtering establishments.

Indemnity paid to the owner would be based on the difference between what he received from the packer and the appraised value of his hogs. Swine moving from regular quarantined areas would be subject to regular federal meat inspection.

Killed And Buried Animals showing symptoms of the disease would be appraised, killed and buried on the farm. In that case the owner would receive the full value of his slaughtered hogs. State and federal officials would make appraisals.

Where hogs were slaughtered under regular federal meat inspection, any signs of infection would result in their being processed into tannage.

to the LINCOLN SINGFEST COMMITTEE for wonderful Sunday Evenings of music under the stars at Pinewood Bowl.

Yes, it's "Hat's Off" to the Lincoln Singfest Committee and Chairman, Miss Norma Carpenter, for giving the people of Lincoln a chance to enjoy beautiful music and the charm of Pinewood Bowl every Sunday evening this summer.

These programs are the result of much work and planning plus the cooperation of such groups as the Ministerial Association, the Women's Division of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, and various civic clubs. Each program lasts one hour and presents some outstanding soloist or group and a brief meditation by a Lincoln minister. The Hammond Electric Organ which is used for the programs, was purchased from the free-will offerings in the past.

You are urged to attend the Singfest this coming Sunday, August 10th, beginning at 8 PM in Pinewood Bowl. Mrs. Murray Spurgin will be the soloist. Miss Grace Finch will play the organ. Rev. A. W. Young, Superintendent of Tabitha Home, will preside. Rev. William Cross of the University Episcopal Church, will give the brief meditation. Julius Humann will be the Song Leader. And the Altrusa Club will furnish the ushers. Plan now to enjoy a wonderful musical hour this Sunday in Pinewood Bowl.

Horse Racing Season Opens At Fairgrounds Today

Record Breaking Entry List Seen By Post Time

By JIM CLARK
Star Sports Staff Member

"RAIN or shine the races go on," commented Ed Schultz, secretary of the State Fair Board, Thursday night as he readied things for the opening of the horse races at the fairgrounds today.

And it appeared that there would be many mud splattered jockeys and horses for the 17th running of the horse racing season, as a long-sought rain drenched Lincoln on the night prior to the inaugural.

This year's opening day was switched from Tuesday to Friday in an attempt to attract a larger opening day crowd. In the past, opening days have seldom attracted more than 2,500.

Races will go on at the fairgrounds every day except Sundays until Aug. 27. Post time is 3 p.m. Monday through Friday with the Saturday card opening at 2:30 p.m.

Today's feature event will be the $1,000 Inaugural Handicap. Prizes for all races have been increased this season.

At least one record is certain to fall during this year's running, even before the first race gets underway. That is the entry list for horses.

Schultz predicted Thursday that more than 600 horses will be entered by post time Friday.

The large entry list has already presented a housing problem for he has erected a large tent to care for 33 horses that were unable to secure housing space in the permanent barns near the grandstand.

Several noticeable improvements have been installed during the off-season for this year's patrons. Among the changes are 64 new, portable mutuel windows and additional ticket booths to handle the crowds.

All the racing officials checked in with Schultz Thursday. They are:

Linus Pierce, presiding steward; John L. Watkins, associate steward; Ralph Stubbins, racing secretary; the State Racing Commission; E. K. Thompson, photo finish and placing judge; Harry Doran, patrol judge; L. G. Crockett, starter; John Deliber, custodian of jockey room; Earl McFadden, bookkeeper and timer; R. H. Cook, veterinarian; George Romm and Bill Reynolds, mutual managers, and Bill Reynolds, superintendent of mutuels.

Before he was married, some of Charley's pals told his bride-to-be that he was so wrapped up in his work she might as well consider herself as being married to Notre Dame.

Some time after Charley had been married, he had a serious operation and he was slow coming out of his sleep. The nurses kept telling Charley that his wife was there in an effort to awaken him.

"Just tell him Johnny Lujack is hurt and he'll wake up," Mrs. Callahan suggested.

THERE was a certain small football coach who was watching his team take an awesome beating in the first half of the big game. His players looked listless and were being shoved all over the field.

In the dressing room, he laced into each player. Looking at his big 6-3 and 240-pound tackle, he shouted: "Gil, if I were as big as you, I'd be heavyweight champion of the world!"

Gil, looking down at the small mentor, replied: "Coach, why ain't you the lightweight champ?"

For most folks across the country this summer has generated some of the hottest weather on record . . . which has needed a group of N. Everybody agrees that man has it rough in the high mercury months . . . but the prospect of a bevy of business men in shorts has kept the movement under control. Lincoln Hits Pueblo Nine 7-3, In 13th

Athletics Win 7th Game In Last Eight Outings

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Lincoln scored four runs in the top of the 13th to win an extra-inning pitchers' battle with the Pueblo Dodgers here Thursday night, 7-3.

The Western League game was twice delayed by more than 15 minutes of sudden showers and was completed only shortly before midnight.

Lincoln tied the score at 3-3 by counting twice in the fourth and that's the way it remained until the 13th. Pitcher Jim Bell started the Athletics winning effort.

The two games scheduled for Thursday night will be played at 6 and 8:15 p.m. Friday, weather permitting. These openers would be Millard vs. Murphy of Omaha and Lincoln vs. Alliance.

There will be two games Saturday at 6 and 8:15 p.m. and two games Sunday at 2:30 and 8 p.m. Inasmuch as the Class A tourney is a double elimination series, the weather-inspired delay could force the tourney into an extra day.

Jerry Schwindt is slated to start for Coach Frank Adams' Athletics in Friday's opener against Alliance, with Rog Bottorff, Dick Hergenrader and Ed Moyer in reserve.

In addition to their two top-notch front line hurlers, Bottorff and Schwindt, the Elks boast a strong bench, stout defense and the long-ball power of Dick Cecil and Ken Forbes. The Elks' roster:

After two batters were retired, Pueblo Pitcher Ernie Nichols issued two walks to load the bases. First Baseman Joe Mangini blated a long double to left center to drive in three runs. Junior Reedy doubled to score Mangini.

Pueblo Manager Bill McCahan was thumbed out of the Pueblo dugout just moments before Mangini hit his three-run double. McCahan became involved in a ruckus with Plate Umpire Keith Myers.

It was Lincoln's seventh win in its last eight starts.

Yanks, Dodgers Hold Edge After Splitting Twin Bills

LEAGUE leaders in the majors held an even par Thursday as they divided twin bills to retain their place setting spread.

At New York, the Brooklyn Dodgers rebounded from an 8-2 pasting at the hands of the New York Giants to capture the second game of their twin bill 7-5. Like the Dodgers, the New York Yankees dropped their first game of a doubleheader with Washington 4-2, but came back in the nightcap for a 7-1 decision.

Elsewhere in the majors, the St. Louis Browns captured their second straight 12 inning contest by a 2-1 margin by nipping the last place Detroit Tigers 5-4. St. Louis continued its late surge for the National League pennant by trouncing the Cincinnati Reds 7-4.

The Philadelphia Phillies made a complete sweep of their doubleheader with Boston, taking the first game 2-1 and the second 10-2. In the only other game scheduled in the American loop, the Philadelphia Athletics blasted Boston 7-5 in the opener of a twin bill and then lost the second 10-4.

Home runs by Roy Campanella, Billy Cox and Jackie Robinson in the nightcap broke the hex that the Giants held over the league leading Dodgers. Paced by Rookie hurler Al Corwin and Hoyt Wilhelm and Hank Thompson's home run, the Giants captured their eighth win in 11 starts and second win of their three game series with the Bums in the opener.

Julio Moreno survived a 12-hit Yankee attack in the first game to post a victory, while Bob Kuzava combined his pitching with Gene Woodling's batting to take the second game for the Yanks.

Kuzava held Washington to four hits while Woodling slammed the Yankees' first home run of the season in Griffith Stadium. It was Woodling's ninth, a hard slash over the right field fence.

Relief hurler Al Benton halted a Philadelphia rally in the fifth inning after four runs had crossed the plate and held the Athletics in check the rest of the way as the Boston Red Sox defeated the A's 6-4 in the second game of their double bill.

Philadelphia won the first game with big Gus Zernial batting in five runs on a pair of homers and a fly ball.

Gordon Goldsberry's double, scoring Jim Dyck, gave the St. Louis Browns their second straight 12-inning, one-run triumph. Hal White, who lost Wednesday night, also got this defeat, both times in a relief role.

Robin Roberts pitched a brilliant three-hitter to win his 17th game of the season as the Philadelphia Phillies topped the Boston Braves, 2 to 1, and the Phillies swept the two-night twin bill by blasting the Braves, 10 to 2, in the night game.

Roberts, the top National League winner, chalked up his sixth straight. He has lost six games.

In the fifth inning on a grand slam homer by Del Ennis as the Phils scored six runs off Jim Wilson and Sheldon Jones.

Russ Meyer, who allowed the Braves eight hits, including a two-run homer by Sid Gordon, helped his own cause with a two-run circuit clout in the sixth.

The St. Louis Cardinals combined Mike Clark's tight relief hurling and some lousy slugging to take a 7 to 4 decision from the Cincinnati Reds. Clark came on in the third inning to relieve Harry Breechen after the Reds had scored four runs and held them scoreless the rest of the way.

It was the rookie Clark's first Major League pitching victory.

Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter led a Card attack that produced 12 hits and seven runs—all in the first six innings—off starter Harry Perkowski and Frank Smith. The defeat broke a four-game winning streak by Perkowski.

Relaxation of NPA Aluminum, Copper Rules To Aid Building

Relaxation of certain National Production Authority regulations on the use of copper and aluminum should allow some construction to continue which otherwise might be curtailed because of the steel shortage, Marvin K. Hicks, district manager of the U.S. Department of Commerce, said.

Because galvanized steel for gutters, air ducts, etc., has become scarce, aluminum and copper are now permitted for these purposes except in entertainment or amusement-type structures or projects, he said.

Structural steel, "I" beams, etc., cannot be used in any residential construction as had been previously authorized, and only two tons per quarter is allowed in commercial buildings, he explained.

Hicks warned that owners are responsible for the materials used unless they have delegated that responsibility in writing to the general contractor or architect. Ervin E. Peterson, president of the Home Builders Association of Lincoln, added these explanations of the new regulations:

Two hundred pounds of aluminum may be used for a forced air heating system in a residence. An additional 500 pounds of copper may be used in a residence where radiant heating is desired.

Where steel water pipes are used in a residence the allowance on copper is 200 pounds. The allowance previously was 35 pounds. Where copper water pipe is used in a residence the allowance on copper is 400 pounds. The previous allowance was 135 pounds.

In remodeling, 50 per cent of the allowances are available. Requests should be addressed to 235 Sunderland Building, Omaha, for the revised regulations.

Board Action Depends Upon McGerr Report

The Board of Control will ask Prison Warden Herbert Hann for written answers to charges by ex-guard George L. McGerr—if McGerr submits a written list of his complaints. That was the word from Board member Thomas Dredla.

McGerr, of 1326 G, said he "hadn't thought" of doing that. He previously had read to newspaper reporters his list of charges, among them waste and the use of unnecessary force in disciplining prisoners. Hann has denied the charges.

Investigation Welcome Warden Hann has said he would welcome a proper investigation if reflections are cast on his administration. McGerr insists that he resigned. He said he submitted no letter of resignation, but had given notice on June 30 that he was leaving.

Hann maintains the guard was relieved of his duties, citing a work-termination report that says the termination was "involuntary."

A similar report is on file with the Board of Control, Hann added. McGerr said the principal reason he left the prison was to take social security benefits. He also was doing too much work for his physical condition, he said.

GI Pilot Training Costs Are Limited To 75%—Martens Veterans of the Korean War who want to learn how to fly can receive only 75 per cent of flight training costs from the government, according to Ted Martens, of Nebraska Veterans Administration regional office.

Under the new law, he said, veterans will receive flight and other educational pay from the Veterans Administration as a monthly allowance from which all expenses must be met, including tuition. No payments will be made directly to educational institutions, as was done formerly.

Martens pointed out that flight training pay, under the law, will be based on 75 per cent of a school's usual charge for flying lessons.

A Korean veteran will get about one and one-half days GI Bill training for each day of service anywhere after June 26, 1950, up to a maximum for most veterans, of 36 months. But, Martens explained, flight trainees will use up their entitlement at the rate of one day for each $1.25 paid them.

If a veteran takes flight training with some other course, he will receive both flight allowance and any other to which he is entitled, Martens said. Unlike the World War II law, flight training is not restricted only for business purposes.

Nine Per Cent Rate Hike Granted For Transports Petroleum carriers of the state were granted a 9 per cent rate increase by the State Railway Commission. It brings the rate into conformity with the interstate rate.

Other motor carriers were recently granted an 11 per cent increase from which the petroleum carriers were excluded. The Interstate Commerce Commission 9 per cent rate increase on interstate shipments has just gone into effect.

Cedars Fund Drive Now 56% Complete

The Cedars Home for Children building fund campaign is climbing steadily to its $55,000 goal, announced co-chairman Louis H. Babst at a report luncheon Thursday at the Capital Hotel.

A total of $13,050 in cash and pledges has been collected to date to make the drive 56.6 per cent complete.

The Cedars Home is a "home between homes" for dependent children located at 6401 Pioneers. It was organized in 1947 to provide care for children of broken homes. Babst awarded certificates for meritorious service to Woodrow R. Magee, Asa B. Waters, and Cliff Jorgensen.

Rokeby Man Fined $15 For Resisting Arrest

Donald E. Clifton of Rokeby was fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court on resisting arrest charges filed after a Saturday night fracas in which five police officers were required to bring him to the station. Clifton pleaded guilty.

Clifton was first spotted by two officers when he was walking down O between 18th and 19th. The officers attempted to arrest him on suspicion of drunkenness but Clifton broke away and ran. Later two other officers were detailed to help the first two when Clifton began kicking and hitting at them, the court was told. A fifth officer was required to quiet the man and bring him to headquarters.

The 25-year-old man's lawyer told the court that the defendant would pay the police department $10 damages for soiled uniforms caused in the incident.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Boer

Anybody looking for a political lull will have to order his copies now. The advance men of Ike and Adlai are plastering the country with circus preambles.

The Baer poll started in 1929 when I wore out a bicycle voting for the Literary Digest.

That was a crucial point in the nation's history. The whites of our eyes were on our tongues.

Once again we side-swipe at the cross-roads of destiny using a bent hair-pin for a weather vane.

The problem? Shall the government of the people, for the people and by the people, include the people?

The dyed-in-the-egg Democrats and the congenial Republicans can be discounted like a 90-day note. They vote the way their fathers voted. There is a new crop since the nineteenth constitutional postscript who will vote ma's way.

Approaching November with a has been used by movie studios, clinical neutrality the question Now he's too old even for that.

Tot Recovers From Rabid Skunk Bite

BENNET, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Ricky Nelson, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nelson of Bennett, was playing spirits again Thursday after an attack by a rabid skunk.

Mrs. Nelson said the youth was feeling fine regardless of a severe skunk bite on his hand and several serum injections.

Ricky, according to Mrs. Nelson, was playing in a sand box near the house when the animal attacked. She said, "I heard Ricky screaming and ran to him. The skunk was biting his hand."

Mrs. Nelson pulled Ricky away from the animal and ran to the house. The skunk followed and cornered Ricky's pet kitten under the porch, killing it.

Nelson, a mechanic in Bennett,

Rabid Skunk Bite

rushed home, and with the help of a neighbor, shot the skunk and rushed Ricky to a doctor.
